The JUDICIAL COUNCIL BULLETIN is published quarterly and mailed without charge to lawyers, courts, public officials, newspapers and libraries, who are or may be interested in our work. We are glad to add to our mailing list the name of any person who is interested in receiving the BULLETIN regularly. We will also send current numbers to persons making requests for them, and will furnish back numbers so far as available.

In order to save unnecessary printing expenses, we are constantly revising our mailing list, and are attempting to eliminate the names of persons who have died or moved out of the state or who have changed their addresses and are receiving the BULLETIN at the new address.

Please advise promptly if you have changed your address, giving the old address as well as the new. HON. EDWARD F. ARN

HON. WILLIAM J. WERTZ

FOREWORD

At the top of this page appear the photographs of Hon. Edward F. Arn and Hon. William J. Wertz, of the Supreme Court of Kansas. Justice Arn, who was appointed February 8, 1949, to succeed the late Justice Homer Hoch, resigned as of March 1, 1950, and Justice Wertz was appointed by Governor Carlson to fill the vacancy thus created.

Justice Robert T. Price of the Supreme Court, whose photograph is the frontispiece of this issue of the BULLETIN, has written an article, "Off the Record," which the Council believes will be of interest to the bench and bar.

In our BULLETIN for April, 1946, we printed an article by Randal C. Harvey, Secretary of the Judicial Council, entitled "In re John Doe and Richard Roe, Deceased," which included a set of forms for use in the administration of a simple estate in the probate court. This article met with such a favorable reception from judges, lawyers and law students that our supply of the BULLETIN has been exhausted. Owing to the great demand therefor, Mr. Harvey has revised and expanded the article and we reproduce it in this issue under the title "The Doe and Roe Estates."

May we again suggest to the bench and bar that any suggestions concerning improvements in our judicial processes will be welcomed and appreciated by the Judicial Council.

Off the Record

By ROBERT T. PRICE, Justice of the Supreme Court

Several months ago Justice Thiele, chairman of the Judicial Council, informed me that it was customary for each justice of the Supreme Court to write an article for the BULLETIN and that it was my turn next. I inquired as to the subject matter and his reply was, "Oh, any legal subject of your own choosing." I gave the matter some thought but the idea soon became lost in the rush of court work and opinion writing.

A number of years ago I remember reading with interest an article in the BULLETIN by Justice Wedell entitled "Light Reading For Hot Weather," in which he narrated in a very informal way some of his experiences and impressions when he first became a member of the court. For years I have followed with interest the "Fireside Chats" by Judge Pierpont in the Bar Journal. And so I came to the conclusion that instead of attempting an article on some "profound" legal question I would just in a very informal way attempt to relate some of my impressions and first experiences in the sixteen months that I have been on the court. From the number and type of questions that have been asked of me, both by laymen and members of the bar, I realize even the latter have a very meager and scanty knowledge and idea of the workings of the court so far as the mechanics of the thing are concerned, and I hope that what I say will give the reader a better close-up picture of our work. At the outset let me add that I do not purport to speak for any other member of the court and any opinions or observations are purely my own.

But let's go back to the early summer of 1948. While I suppose a great many lawyers, if pressed for the actual truth, would admit that sometime or other they would like to be on the Supreme Court—and I was no exception—yet, frankly, I really had never given it any serious thought so far as I myself was concerned. But with the death of Justice Allen B. Burch and the appointment of the late Justice Austin M. Cowan to fill the vacancy until a successor to the former should be duly elected and qualified, thus leaving the field wide open, I decided to get into the race.

I soon found out that the state of Kansas is much larger than the thirty-fifth judicial district, comprised of Osage and Wabaunsee counties, of which I had formerly been district judge, and while I, as a lawyer, had always regarded the Supreme Court as the most important office in the state, I soon discovered that in the eyes of the general public it is a so-called "minor state office," and that when I would go into a county in the interest of my candidacy the average "man on the street" could tell you who was running for sheriff or county clerk but no one except lawyers, one's close personal friends and political wheel-horses knew or seemed to care about the Supreme Court or the candidates for it—in fact the following was typical: One of the most prominent businessmen and civic leaders in one of the good-sized cities of eastern Kansas asked, "Well, let's see, Price—the Supreme Court—now how many counties does that include and what does it do?" I mention this not in a critical way at all but merely to call attention to the fact that the general public, as such, has no conception of the place or function of the Supreme Court in our scheme of government.

So far as a knowledge of the actual workings of the court are concerned, when on November 30, 1948, I was sworn in I know that I must have been as green as any other new member who has taken the oath for the first time. Shortly after the general election I was in talking to Justice Cowan and I remember his remarks ran something like this: "Now, I am probably in a better position to answer some of your questions than any other member of the court because last June when I was appointed I was wondering the same things that I know are on your mind." And with that he sat down and told me the answers to a lot of things that I had been wondering about—things which, as I look back now, really seem amusing but which at the time seemed very important to me, and I especially remember this remark of his: "I have been practicing law for forty years and have worked hard all my life, but never have I worked as hard or put in as many hours as I have the few months I have been on this court." I know now that he wasn't kidding or exaggerating.

Since I have been on the court I have been asked all manner of questions, both by laymen and lawyers, ranging from—"Do you judges up there ever have any arguments when you're deciding cases?" to "Do you know ahead of time what cases are going to be assigned to you?" to "Why don't you change the rule or custom so that when a justice is in the minority he doesn't have to write the majority opinion?" to "How does the work compare to that of a district judge?"

I will attempt to answer all of those questions and others, and, as I said before, any views I express are purely my own.

The answer to the second question is this. After the arguments for the day are completed we meet in the office of the chief justice and the cases heard that day are assigned in rotation in order of seniority—for instance, if Justice Thiele drew the last case on the previous day Justice Wedell would be assigned the first one, Justice Parker the second one and I the third, on the succeeding day, and to that extent we do know at the time a case is argued which justice is going to draw it, but of course there is no way of knowing until the case is called whether it is going to be heard, continued or dismissed. One day about a year ago Justice Parker drew the last case argued that day and so I knew the first one up the following morning would be assigned to me, and with that in mind I obtained the abstract and briefs from the clerk's office and spent about three hours that night reading them so that I would be familiar with the case when it was called for argument the next morning. It so happened that the morning mail to the clerk's office included a communication which made it necessary to continue the case and so I drew the next one on the docket! This brings me to a discussion of how much better it would be for both the court and attorneys if we had the opportunity to familiarize ourselves with cases before they are argued, but under the circumstances such is impossible. In the first place we actually don't know which cases are going to be argued until they are called in open court, and even though we did know ahead of time it simply would be impossible to study the abstracts and briefs while engaged in writing opinions in those cases heard the previous month. In actual practice, unless there is something in the title of the case to indicate its nature, we do not know what a case is all about until the clerk distributes the abstracts and briefs when the case is called. I know that there is one school of thought which argues that since some judges are naturally more experienced in certain lines of litigation they should be assigned the cases dealing with those subjects, and it is argued that opinions would thus be more scholarly and comprehensive. Granted that that is probably true, I still feel the system of rotation is much more conducive to an opinion representing a cross-section of the court and thus tends to eliminate so-called "one-man opinions," for after all, in the absence of a dissenting or concurring opinion, the opinion of the court represents the studied consideration of all members and not just that of the justice to whom the case was assigned. Under the rotation system there is no problem of selecting the proper justice to whom a particular case should be assigned, and under it we do not deliberately develop "specialists" in any class or classes of cases. Furthermore, after a justice has written an opinion in an involved case he is all the better able to discuss and decide intelligently a similar case arising in the future.

Conference—when we meet to decide cases—ordinarily commences the Wednesday morning following the week of oral arguments. This means each justice has had the week end and Monday and Tuesday to prepare his cases for presentation to the other justices and at the same time familiarize himself with all of the others. The junior justice presents his cases first and so on up the line of seniority. Sometimes it does not take long for a case and then again it might take hours, maybe a day or two, to decide one which is particularly difficult, and in answer to the question whether we have any arguments in conference I will say that the answer is definitely yes! In fact, no holds are barred and on occasions the lines are drawn very sharply, although I never yet have seen a member lose his temper or fail to respect the views of any other justice. If from the discussion it appears that a formal vote is required a poll is taken, with the junior justice voting first and so on up the line of seniority, with the exception that in conference each justice "presides" at the discussion of his cases and he votes last. Oftentimes we will agree on the result but will differ as to the reasons for a particular holding, and it then becomes the duty of the justice to write the opinion on the basis of the majority view even though we are unanimous in agreeing on the result.

There is no clear-cut answer to the question why a justice should be called upon to write the majority opinion when he in fact dissents, except that it has already been assigned to him and ordinarily he has no notion of how the other justices feel about the case until conference. If the system were otherwise it would, in theory at least, be possible for a justice to avoid writing a particularly long and tedious opinion, after he saw how it was going to be decided, by stating that he could not agree with the majority and therefore could ask to be relieved from writing the majority opinion. I still think the system of absolute rotation of cases is the best method possible, despite the fact that now and then a justice feels called upon to dissent from his own opinion. I have felt compelled to do so twice already but must confess that it did seem a bit awkward.

One thing to which I am sure the average attorney has never given any thought is the "time element" involved in the work of the court. As I said, conference usually begins the Wednesday morning after the week of arguments, and as a general rule it is completed some time Saturday. This means that, depending upon the calendar, ordinarily we have two weeks in which to write our opinions before sitting again for the next month's assignment of cases, and when one stops to consider what it means to do that in such a short space of time he can see what I mean, and all the while each justice is reading and studying the opinions written and circulated by the six other members of the court. I doubt if very many lawyers have ever given a thought to the fact of our having to meet a "dead line." True, a case can be carried over, but—that merely means the particular justice is all the more pressed for time in the succeeding month!

Some justices write out their opinions in longhand while others dictate them entirely. As for myself, I follow both methods, depending on the length and type of case involved. After the opinion is written up in final form, proof-read and thoroughly checked as to citations, quotes, etc., it is circulated among the other justices for their approval and comments. Each justice delivers his opinions to the justice below him in seniority first, the one exception being that the opinions of the junior justice go first to the chief justice and then on down the line. To be specific, my opinions go first to Justice Wertz, while his go first to Chief Justice Harvey, and so on. Naturally each justice has his own style of writing, just as every practicing lawyer has his own style and method of approach to a problem. Oftentimes we criticize each other's use of language in expressing a given thought, but in the main an opinion expresses the consensus of the court even though perhaps each of us, if writing it, would express ourself in different words. I might add, there is considerable good-natured ribbing among us concerning the difficult-to-get-away-from "split infinitive" or other "non-Hoenshel" use of words and sentence construction appearing in each other's opinions when they are first circulated.

Many times, both before and since I have been a member of the court, I have thought that opinions are too long and I have deliberately attempted to shorten mine as much as possible and at the same time cover and answer all contentions raised, but I find that to make an opinion short and concise is much more easily said than done. I do think that many cases could be disposed of by short per curiam opinions, citing a few authorities as being the basis for the decision.

Many times I have been asked concerning the value and importance of oral argument. My answer is that it all depends on the nature of the case, the quality of the abstract and briefs and the quality and type of oral argument made. As I have said, ordinarily we don't know what a case is all about until the attorney for the appellant gets on his feet and starts to talk. And while I do not mean to be unduly critical, sometimes we still don't know what the case is all about even after he is half finished with his argument. In other words, an appeal to this court should be predicated upon a definite and specific theory, just as it is necessary to try a case in the lower court on a definite theory. What we want to know is, what is the case all about, what are the facts, briefly stated, what disposition was made of it in the lower court and what definite specific grounds are being urged to reverse or affirm the decision below. In many cases I realize it is difficult to sift the chaff from the grain, but our reports are full of statements to the effect that on appeal findings of fact below, supported by substantial, competent evidence, will not be reviewed in this court, and yet I have heard many arguments and have read many briefs which have urged this court to do that very thing. This rule does not necessarily make the district court a court of last resort, as is sometimes said, but it is a necessary rule of appellate review, for, after all, it is the function of juries and district judges to find the facts in a given case. Generally speaking, to me an oral argument is very helpful provided it is concise and to the point. A number of years ago a very fine trial lawyer, and now one of our outstanding district judges, said to me, "In my opinion one of a lawyer's greatest assets is the ability to stand on his feet and think logically and speak clearly."

How does the work on the Supreme Court compare to that of the district court? Well, that is a difficult question to answer because there are so many things involved and it depends, I suppose, upon one's viewpoint. In most respects the work here seems much more exacting and demanding due to the fact that every decision that is made and every word that is written is, right or wrong, the law. When I was a district judge and had a particularly difficult case to decide, with very little authority to support either side, I used to say to myself that if I were in error the Supreme Court would correct me on appeal, and now that I am on the Supreme Court I realize fully the seriousness and responsibility inherent in the position. By that I do not mean that a justice of the Supreme Court should take himself too seriously, but he certainly is conscious of the grave responsibility of his work. In many respects the work as district judge was much more interesting. Here I miss the atmosphere of the courtroom, the personal contact with attorneys, and the so-called "human side" of every lawsuit. The work here, as compared to that of the district court, I suppose could be classed as dull and routine. In a way it is more difficult—and in one way it is not. A district judge ordinarily must decide questions then and there, such as a demurrer to the evidence, with the jury waiting out in the courthouse corridor while the matter is being argued; whereas in this court there are seven heads instead of one, and ordinarily by the time a case reaches here it is more thoroughly briefed than it was in the lower court, all of which reminds me of a statement made by the same attorney I referred to a moment ago, which ran something to the effect that "the trouble with a good many attorneys is they don't really study and brief their cases until notice of appeal is filed."

A number of our district judges follow the practice of filing memorandum opinions in involved cases. Personally I think it is a very fine thing and it is helpful on appeal to know the reasons and theory upon which the lower court decided a given case.

A few months ago I was talking to a lawyer from western Kansas whom I have known since Kansas University law school days, and in the conversation he mentioned that due to the illness of their district judge he had sat as judge pro tem in a number of cases, and he said that really for the first time in his twenty-five years' practice he thus came to realize that there are two sides to every lawsuit. I have often thought that it would be a good idea for every lawyer, at some time or other during his practice, to sit as judge for at least one term of court for that very reason and for the further reason that he would then have a much better idea and understanding of the problems facing every trial judge.

After all, courts are human institutions—composed of and conducted by human beings. The mere fact that a lawyer is elected or appointed to a court does not alter his personality. In one sense of the word a judge is merely a lawyer who was elected or appointed to the office and he brings to the court exactly what he is by virtue of his background, learning, ideals, abilities, habits, character and experience—and nothing more.

The late Justice Holmes, when asked what qualities were necessary for a good judge to possess, replied something like this—"Well, first he should have a firm conviction that he isn't 'God'."

In conclusion, I wish to apologize for the repeated use of the pronoun "I" in this rambling article—but in the nature of things it was necessary—for I have attempted to set out a few of my impressions and thoughts since becoming a member of the court, and at the same time give the reader a little insight as to the workings of the court. I hope that I have succeeded.

THE DOE AND ROE ESTATES

Introduction by RANDAL C. HARVEY

Four years ago we published in the JUDICIAL COUNCIL BULLETIN for April, 1946, a collection of probate forms assembled under the title "In Re John Doe and Richard Roe, Deceased." At that time the purpose of this article was explained as follows:

"It will soon be seven years since the probate code became effective and the mechanics of probate practice have somewhat crystallized during that period. Most lawyers in active practice have handled a sufficient number of estates since 1939 to have become thoroughly familiar with the statutory procedure in simple estates including the sequence and timing of the various necessary acts, the form and contents of the petitions, notices and orders which are usually required, and the jurisdictional steps which must be taken.

"In acquiring a working knowledge of the proceedings required in ordinary estates, the bar has been greatly assisted by the excellent forms printed in Volume 3 of Bartlett's Probate Law and Practice, published in 1939, and the second edition of McCamish Kansas Forms, published in 1941. However, most lawyers have used forms only as a supplement to their own study and understanding of the probate code, as interpreted by the numerous decisions of the supreme court since 1939, and as amended in 1941, 1943 and 1945.

"A large percentage of our most active lawyers have been absent in military service during a substantial part of the seven years while probate practice under the 1939 code has been developing, and some of them may feel at a loss in picking up the loose ends of their experience in probate matters. Also, we will now have an ever increasing number of new graduates who have made extensive studies of the statutes and decisions, but have not had the actual experience of administering estates. Many of them find that, in addition to the statutes and form books, it is helpful to examine the files of actual estates which have been administered under the code.

"For whatever value it may be, the following is presented as an actual transcript of all of the papers filed in the probate court in the mythical estate of John Doe—headings, verifications, and filing dates included—from the filing of petition for administration to the order of final discharge, with brief references to the statutes and standard form books, and an occasional note of explanation. While the names of persons and geography are all fictitious, the papers are almost all taken from the files in actual estates, and have served their purpose without challenge in the probate court. They are not presented as ideal forms—undoubtedly many of them could be improved—but it is hoped that they include all necessary and jurisdictional details of a simple probate proceeding.

"Proceedings for the sale of real estate are included because this is necessary in so many smaller estates which come into the office of the average lawyer, but most of the other offshoots of administration proceedings are omitted, such as discovery, special administration, appeals, and even the use of waivers in lieu of notice. The annexed notes are not claimed to be complete, but only to furnish a quick reference to further study.

"There are also included complete proceedings for determination of descent of the real estate of the mythical Richard Roe, whose death presumably occurred at the same time but whose estate did not require full administration.

"This is followed by an index and check sheet for a simple intestate estate, a testate estate, and proceedings for determination of descent, correlated as nearly as possible with the text.

"All statutory references are to the current supplement of the General Statutes of Kansas and only the section number is given (59-201, etc.). References to 3 Bartlett refer to the third volume of Kansas Probate Law and Practice by Samuel E. Bartlett. References to McCamish (2) refer to the second edition of Kansas forms by the Honorable William H. McCamish."

Our supply of the April, 1946, BULLETIN has now been exhausted and I have been requested to revise this article for reprinting in this BULLETIN.

In making this revision, the article has been preserved as nearly as possible in its original form, with some necessary corrections and with the addition of a testate estate.

It has been necessary to omit some of the repetitious forms, but wherever forms have been omitted, they have been replaced by numbered notes with cross references to similar forms printed elsewhere in the article, so as to preserve the consecutive progress of each proceeding.

ORDER APPOINTING ADMINISTRATOR

Now on this 3d day of February, 1945, this matter comes on upon the petition of Mary Doe, for the appointment of administrator, said petitioner appearing in person and by W. B. Pleader, her attorney, and Theodore R. Doe appearing in person. The court finds that notice of said hearing has been given by publication and mailing as provided by law and by the order of this court. Thereupon, evidence is presented on said petition, and the court finds that the said John Doe died intestate on January 2, 1945, being a resident of Apache county, Kansas, at the time of his death, and leaving an estate to be administered herein, and that Theodore R. Doe, a resident of Apache county, Kansas, is a proper person to be appointed administrator of said estate.

IT IS THEREFORE BY THE COURT ORDERED that Theodore R. Doe be and he is appointed administrator of the estate of John Doe, deceased, and that, upon the filing of his oath and bond in the amount of $2,000.00, letters of administration issue to him.

TAX REPORTS

After the inventory and appraisal have been filed in Probate Court, the property and assets should be again listed in an Inventory and Appraisal for the State Commission of Revenue and Taxation, Inheritance Tax Division, Form No. IH-12, which will be transmitted by the Probate Court. This form differs slightly in arrangement from the probate code inventory, form (14), and should also include jointly owned property and property conveyed without consideration within one year preceding date of death. In due course the state commission will issue its order and transmit same to the probate court. If any state inheritance tax is found to be due, it should be paid to the county treasurer, and receipt filed in the probate court before final settlement. (See 79-1511, 79-1517, 79-1518, and 79-1506.)

If the value of the estate is over $60,000.00, a federal estate tax return must be filed. Preliminary notice, Form 704, should be given within two months from the date the administrator qualifies, and return on Form 706 must be filed within fifteen months from date of death. If marital deduction is claimed, this should include Form 706MD insert. Forms may be obtained from U. S. Collector of Internal Revenue.

Administrator should ascertain whether decedent filed federal income tax return for year preceding death, and file one for him if he has not done so. In doubtful cases, administrator should also notify Collector of death and request an immediate audit of returns for preceding years. Administrator must also file return for decedent for part year in which death occurred, and fiduciary returns showing income received by administrator.

Administrator should also pay all outstanding personal taxes, and make personal tax return to the county assessor of money and property in his hands on March 1st of each year. This is easy to overlook when final settlement is made between March and November. The statute provides for payment in advance in such cases.

This is only a brief summary of tax problems which are likely to arise in every estate. Many others will arise in special cases. Every fiduciary should be tax conscious or he is likely to become personally liable for unpaid taxes after the assets have all been distributed.

IT IS THEREFORE ORDERED AND ADJUDGED BY THE COURT that the said administrator proceed to sell the following described real estate:

Lot 21 on Main street in Ponzi's fourteenth addition to the city of Metropolis, in Apache County, Kansas,

IN THE PROBATE COURT OF APACHE COUNTY, KANSAS

In the Matter of the Estate of John Doe, Deceased.

JOURNAL ENTRY OF FINAL SETTLEMENT

Now on this 4th day of January, 1946, this matter comes on upon the petition of Theodore R. Doe, administrator, for final settlement of said estate. The said administrator appears in person and by his attorney, W. B. Pleader, and there are no other appearances. The court finds that notice of said hearing has been given by publication and mailing as provided by law and by the orders of this court and that proof thereof has been duly filed in this court, and the said notice and the proof thereof are examined and approved by the court.

Thereupon, the said petition for final settlement is submitted to the court and evidence produced thereon, and the court finds that the said John Doe died intestate on the 2d day of January, 1945, being a resident of Apache county, Kansas, and a citizen of the United States, and leaving as his sole heirs the following persons:

- Mary Doe, his widow, whose address is Route No. 1, Hometown, Kansas;
- Theodore R. Doe, his son, whose address is 1120 Main street, Metropolis, Kansas;
- Alice Doe Smith, his daughter, whose address is Grand Hotel, Lake George, Texas.

The court further finds that letters of administration were granted to Theodore R. Doe as administrator of said estate, on February 3, 1945, and that he published his notice of appointment on February 8, 1945, that more than nine months has expired since the publication of such notice and more than one year has expired since date of death and that the time for filing claims against said estate has expired.

The court further finds that the said estate has been fully administered, that all demands of creditors allowed against said estate have been paid in full by the administrator, that no inheritance taxes are due to the state of Kansas and no estate taxes due to the United States; and that the said administrator has filed his account showing his receipts and disbursements, which account is examined and approved by the court.

The court further finds that said administrator has on hand the sum of $1,348.79, and that there are costs due in this court in the amount of $41.62, and that the said administrator has performed services which are reasonably worth the amount of $200.00, and has employed an attorney whose services are reasonably worth the sum of $250.00 and that allowance should be made to the administrator in said amounts for his services and attorney's fees.

The court further finds that the said John Doe owned the following described real estate at the time of his death:

Lot 21 on Main street in Ponzi's fourteenth addition to the City of Metropolis, in Apache county, Kansas; and that the said real estate has been sold by the administrator to D. H. Hunter, for the payment of debts, taxes and expenses of administration, and that said sale has been confirmed and the purchase price fully paid and administrator's deed executed by the administrator and approved by this court and delivered to the purchaser, and that this estate has no further interest in the said real estate.

The court further finds that the said John Doe also owned the following described real estate at the time of his death:

The Southwest Quarter (SW $\frac{1}{4}$) of Section Thirty-seven (37), Township Seventy-five (75), Range Eighty (80) West of the Fifteenth Principal Meridian, in Apache county, Kansas; and that the said real estate was set aside for the use of Mary Doe, widow of decedent, as her homestead, by order of this court dated March 6, 1945, and that title to said real estate should be assigned to the heirs above named, subject to the homestead rights of said widow.

The court further finds from the affidavit of the administrator filed herein and other evidence submitted to the court that neither Mary Doe, nor Alice Doe Smith, nor any other person interested in this estate, is in the military service of the United States as defined by the Soldiers' and Sailors' Civil Relief Act of 1940 as amended.

It Is THEREFORE BY THE COURT ORDERED that the accounts of Theodore R. Doe, as administrator of the estate of John Doe, deceased, be allowed and approved, and that the administrator be allowed the sum of $200.00 for his services, and the sum of $250.00 for his attorneys' fees to be paid to W. B. Pleader, for his services as attorney for the said administrator, and that said administrator distribute the moneys in his hands as follows:

To the payment of the costs in this court in the amount of $41.62.

To the said administrator, allowance for his services, in the amount of $200.00, and allowance for his attorneys' fees to be paid to W. B. Pleader, his attorney, in the amount of $250.00, leaving a balance of $857.17 to be distributed to the heirs of John Doe, deceased, in the following proportions and amounts:

- To Mary Doe, one-half..... $428.59
- To Theodore R. Doe, one-fourth..... $214.29
- To Alice Doe Smith, one-fourth..... $214.29

IT IS BY THE COURT FURTHER ORDERED that title to the following described real estate, to-wit:

The Southwest Quarter (SW¹/₄) of Section Thirty-seven (37), Township Seventy-five (75), Range Eighty (80) West of the 15th Principal Meridian, in Apache County, Kansas; and all other property, real and personal, owned by decedent at the time of his death, subject to any lawful disposition thereof heretofore made, be assigned to the heirs of John Doe, deceased, according to their interest as above set out, to wit: To Mary Doe, an undivided one-half interest therein, and to Theodore R. Doe, an undivided one-fourth interest therein, and to Alice Doe Smith, an undivided one-fourth interest therein; all subject to the homestead rights of Mary Doe, as widow of John Doe, deceased.

IT IS BY THE COURT FURTHER ORDERED that, upon the filing of receipts showing the distribution of the funds in his hands in accordance with the provisions of this order, the said Theodore R. Doe be discharged as administrator of the estate of John Doe, deceased, and that he and his surety be relieved from further liability on his bond.

DECREE OF DESCENT

Now on this 31st day of January, 1946, comes on for hearing the petition of Sarah Roe to determine the descent of the property of Richard Roe, deceased. The petitioner, Sarah Roe, appears in person, and by W. B. Pleader, her attorney, and said Sarah Roe also appears as mother and natural guardian of Franklin D. Roe and Eleanor Roe, minors, and the court finds that it is not necessary to appoint a guardian ad litem for said minors. There are no other appearances. The court finds that said petitioner has given notice of the time and place of this hearing as provided by law and the orders of this court, proof of which notice and the publication and mailing thereof is duly filed herein, and is approved by the court.

Thereupon evidence is produced upon said petition and after consideration of the evidence and being fully advised, the court finds that the allegations of said petition are true, that Richard Roe, a resident of Apache county, Kansas, and a citizen of the United States, died on the 2d day of January, 1945, intestate; that at the time of his death he was the owner of the following described real estate in Apache county, Kansas, to wit:

East Half (E ½) of Southeast Quarter (SE ¼) of Section 37, Township 75, Range 80, in Apache county, Kansas; that no will of the said Richard Roe has been admitted to probate nor administration had of his estate; that the said Richard Roe died intestate, and that all of the debts of the said Richard Roe have been paid. The court further finds that it has been determined by the Inheritance Tax Division of the State Commission of Revenue and Taxation of the state of Kansas that no tax liability attached to any property of the said Richard Roe which changed ownership by reason of his death, and that his estate is not subject to inheritance tax, and the order of said commission has been filed in this court.

The court further finds that the said Richard Roe left surviving him as his sole and only heirs at law the following persons, whose names and respective shares in his estate were as follows:

Sarah Roe, his wife, one-half.
Woodrow W. Roe, his son, one-sixth;
Franklin D. Roe, his son, one-sixth;
Eleanor Roe, his daughter, one-sixth.

The court further finds that the said Richard Roe had no spouse or children or adopted children or issue of deceased children, natural or adopted, who survived him, other than the persons above named.

IT IS THEREFORE ORDERED, ADJUDGED AND DECREED BY THE COURT that the title to all of the interest of Richard Roe, in and to the following described real estate:

East Half (E ½) of Southeast Quarter (SE ¼) of Section 37, Township 75, Range 80, in Apache county, Kansas;

and all other property owned by the said Richard Roe, descended from him on the 2d day of January, 1945, the date of his death, to his heirs at law as follows:

Sarah Roe, his wife, one-half;

Woodrow W. Roe, his son, one-sixth;

Franklin D. Roe, his son, one-sixth;

Eleanor Roe, his daughter, one-sixth;

and the title thereto is assigned to the said heirs as of said date, subject to any lawful disposition thereof heretofore made.

The appointment of a guardian ad litem is discretionary and is unnecessary in mere formal matters. Now on this 7th day of March, 1949, this matter comes on upon the petition of Carrie N. Doe for the appointment of guardian ad litem. ORDER FOR ISSUANCE OF COMMISSION

Now on this 14th day of February, 1949, comes on for hearing the petition of Carrie N. Doe for the issuance of a commission to take the testimony of A. B. Jurist, subscribing witness to the will of Theodore R. Doe, deceased, the petitioner appearing by Pleader, Pleader & Tryor, her attorneys.

The court further finds that F. F. Hatfield, Probate Judge of McCoy County, Missouri, is a duly qualified officer of said county and state and is a proper person to whom to issue such commission.

IT IS THEREFORE BY THE COURT ORDERED that a commission be issued to F. F. Hatfield, Probate Judge of McCoy County, Missouri, to take the deposition of A. B. I am well acquainted with the handwriting and signature of Z. Z. Smith is now out of the jurisdiction of the court and his present whereabouts are unknown and cannot be ascertained with reasonable diligence and the testimony of said Z. Z. Smith cannot be obtained within a reasonable time. I have carefully examined the signature affixed to the said will purporting to be the signature of Z. Z. ORDER ADMITTING WILL TO PROBATE

Now on this 7th day of March, 1949, comes on for hearing the petition of Carrie N. Doe for the probate of the will of Theodore R. Doe, deceased, and for the issuance of letters testamentary thereunder. The petitioner appears in person and by Pleader, Pleader & Tryor, her attorneys. G. I. Joseph, guardian ad litem for Jesse J. Doe, appears on behalf of said minor. There are no other appearances. The court finds that notice of this hearing has been given by publication and mailing in accordance with law and the order of this court, and the said notice, and the proof of publication and mailing thereof, are examined and approved by the court.

Thereupon petitioner produces evidence in support of said petition, including the testimony of two of the subscribing witnesses to the said will, Ruth V. Trueheart and A. B. Jurist (testimony of the latter having been taken by deposition under commission issued by this court), and other evidence, and the court, after consideration of the evidence, finds that the allegations of said petition are true; that the said Theodore R. Doe died testate on the 1st day of February, 1949, at Metropolis, Kansas, being a resident of Apache County, Kansas, and a citizen of the United States at the time of his death, leaving an estate in this county and state; that the instrument, bearing date of November 3, 1948, was duly executed according to law and is the last will of the said Theodore R. Doe; that at the time of the execution of said will the decedent was of legal age and of sound mind and not under any restraint, and that the said will should be admitted to probate. The court further finds that Carrie N. Doe is named as executor in the said will, without bond, and is a competent and proper person to be appointed as such executor.

IT IS THEREFORE BY THE COURT ORDERED AND ADJUDGED that the said instrument, dated November 3, 1948, is adjudged to be the last will of Theodore R. Doe, and the same is admitted to probate.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that Carrie N. Doe be and she is appointed executor of the said will, and that she be not required to give bond, and that, upon the filing of her oath, letters testamentary issue to her.

Some lawyers still prefer to use the word "executrix" when a woman is appointed. Court may require bond, even when will provides otherwise. (59-1104.) In this estate it was unnecessary to prove the consent of the wife because she admitted it in her petition, form (102), and later elected to take under the will, form (124).

Reference: 59-1201, 59-1202, 3 Bartlett 109-111, McCamish (2) 594-596.

Appraisement should be made as of date of death (59-1202). Debt discharged by will must be included. (59-1204.)

Where deceased is a member of partnership, the inventory shall contain separate inventory of partnership estate (59-1201) and may be administered separately (59-1001 to 59-1005 inclusive). In this estate the executor avoided these problems by selling to surviving partner, as shown in forms (136, 137) and (139).

Time: Inventory should be filed and appraisers appointed within 30 days after appointment of executor (59-1201) and appraisement made within 60 days thereafter (59-1202).

Intestate Estate: Substantially same, see form (14).

TAX REPORTS

NOTE: After the inventory and appraisal have been filed in Probate Court, the property and assets should be again listed in an Inventory and Appraisal for the State Commission of Revenue and Taxation, Inheritance Tax Division, Form No. IH-12, which will be transmitted by the Probate Court. This form differs slightly in arrangement from the probate code inventory form (127), and should also include jointly owned property and property conveyed without consideration within one year preceding date of death. In due course the state commission will issue its order and transmit same to the probate court. If any state inheritance tax is found to be due, it should be paid to the county treasurer, and receipt filed in the probate court before final settlement. (See 79-1511, 79-1517, 79-1518, and 79-1506).

If the value of the estate is over $60,000.00, a federal estate tax return must be filed. Preliminary notice, Form 704, should be given within two months from the date the executor qualifies, and return on Form 706 must be filed within fifteen months from date of death. If marital deduction is claimed, this should include Form 706MD insert.

Executor should ascertain whether decedent filed federal income tax return for year preceding death, and file one for him if he has not done so. In doubtful cases, executor should also notify collector of death and request an immediate audit of returns for preceding years. Executor must also file return for decedent for part year in which death occurred, and fiduciary returns showing income received by executor.

Executor should also pay all outstanding personal taxes, and make personal tax return of money and property in his hands on March 1st of each year. This is easy to overlook when final settlement is made between March and November. The statute provides for payment in advance in such cases.

This is only a brief summary of tax problems which are likely to arise in every estate. Many others will arise in special cases. Every fiduciary should be tax conscious or he is likely to become personally liable for unpaid taxes after the assets have all been distributed.

PETITION TO SET APART HOMESTEAD AND FOR STATUTORY ALLOWANCES

NOTE: Use same form as in intestate estates. The widow does not waive her rights by consenting to the will or electing to take under the will, unless it clearly appears otherwise. (59-404). In this estate, form (16) will need some modification, since there are both a widow and a minor child. Note the last sentence of 59-403 where the minor child is not living with the surviving spouse.

Time: After inventory and appraisal filed (59-2235).

Intestate estates: Generally the same, see form (16).

ORDER SETTING APART HOMESTEAD AND STATUTORY ALLOWANCES

NOTE: Same as in intestate estates. In this estate, the order would differ somewhat from form (17) because there is a minor child as well as a widow. Also the furniture bequeathed to Annabel Lee Howe, and the automobile and portrait bequeathed to Alice Doe Smith should be excepted, because the widow consented to the will containing these specific bequests and elected to take under it (see 59-404).

REPORT OF SALES OF REAL ESTATE AND PERSONAL PROPERTY

Comes now Carrie N. Doe, executor of the will of Theodore R. Doe, deceased, and shows to the court that under the will of Theodore R. Doe the executor was granted the power to sell real estate and personal property and that in accordance therewith the said executor has sold to G. W. Rochester the following described real estate, to wit:

Lot 7 on Frederick Street, in Foster's Addition to the City of Metropolis, in Apache County, Kansas; for the sum of $2,750, cash, and has executed her executor's deed to the said real estate, which deed is submitted herewith.

Said executor further shows that she has sold to Patrick O'Riley certain personal property consisting of an undivided one-half interest in the assets of the partnership of Theodore R. Doe and Patrick O'Riley, doing business as Atomic Vending Agency, for the sum of $4,000 under the terms of a bill of sale duly executed by the said executor and submitted herewith.

Said executor further shows that each of the said sales was made by her in good faith in the exercise of her powers under said will and in the performance of her duties as executor thereof, and that she did not directly or indirectly acquire any beneficial interest in the property sold and that she is not interested in the said property, except as stated in this report.

Dated February 2, 1950.

Executor of the Will of
Theodore R. Doe, Deceased.

STATE OF KANSAS, APACHE COUNTY, SS.:

Carrie N. Doe, of lawful age, being first duly sworn, on oath says:

That she is the duly appointed, qualified and acting executor above named; that she has read the above and foregoing report of sales of real estate and personal property, and that the statements therein made are true.

Filed February 2, 1950, A. L. MANN, Probate Judge.

Reference: 59-1413, see, also, 59-2309.

NOTES: (1) This report is probably not necessary, but is good practice. Where the will gives power to sell the executor may exercise such power without any order of the court (59-1413), but he has a general duty to report his proceedings to the court and to account for the money and property of the estate (59-1502). By reporting his sales under the will, he can secure the approval of the court endorsed on the deed, which is much preferred by most purchasers.

(2) Where the will gives no power to sell real estate, it can only be sold to pay debts, as in intestate estates, forms (27) to (37) inclusive.

(3) Few purchasers will accept title under the power of sale in a will until the expiration of one year after death, because of the possibility that a later will may be offered for probate (59-2226), and most purchasers also insist upon a showing that the estate is solvent and that all taxes have been determined and paid. These difficulties may sometimes be avoided by placing deed and purchase price in escrow.

Time: Any time after probate of will and before final discharge, but see note 3 above.

Intestate estates: Not applicable.

PETITION FOR FINAL SETTLEMENT

Comes now Carrie N. Doe, executor of the will of Theodore R. Petitioner further shows that the State Commission of Revenue and Taxation, Inheritance Tax Division, of the State of Kansas, has issued its order, which is filed herein, determining that no state inheritance taxes are due in this estate; and further shows that this estate is not subject to federal estate tax, and that all taxes due to the United States and the State of Kansas have been paid in full.

Petitioner further shows that all just debts of the decedent have been paid, and that all demands filed herein have been fully and finally adjudicated, and the executor has paid in full all demands which have been allowed against this estate; and that the time for filing demands has expired.

Petitioner further shows that in accordance with the provisions of the said will, the petitioner has caused a monument to be erected at the grave of the decedent, at a cost of $1,021.02 and that the cost of the same has been paid by the executor.

Petitioner further shows that the decedent owned at the time of his death the following described real estate in Apache County, Kansas:

Petitioner further shows that she has on hand all of the personal property described in the inventory and appraisal filed herein, except the partnership property which was sold by the executor under the power of sale granted to her by the said will, the proceeds of which have been fully accounted for. Petitioner further shows that certain items of personal property were specifically bequeathed to individual legatees by the terms of the said will and should be assigned and delivered to such legatees, and that the remainder of such personal property, together with any cash balance remaining in the hands of the executor, should be assigned under the residuary clause of said will.

Petitioner attaches hereto and files herewith a full, true, and correct account of her receipts and disbursements as such executor, showing a balance in her hands of $9,521.18.

Petitioner waives compensation for her services as executor, and shows that she had employed Pleader, Pleader & Tryor as her attorneys and that said attorneys have performed services in said estate, as appears from the files and records in this court, and that allowance should be made to her, to be paid to the said attorneys, for their services, in such amount as the court may find reasonable.

The State of Kansas to all persons concerned:

You are hereby notified that a petition has been filed in said court by Carrie N. Doe, executor of the will of Theodore R. Doe, deceased, praying for a final settlement of said estate, approval of her acts, proceedings and accounts as executor, allowance for attorneys' fees, and expenses; and also praying that the court determine the heirs, devisees and legatees entitled to the estate and the proportion or part thereof to which each is entitled and distribute and assign the same to them in accordance with the will of Theodore R. Doe, deceased; and you are hereby required to file your written defenses thereto on or before the 3d day of March, 1950, at ten o'clock, a. m., on said day, in said court, in the City of Metropolis, at which time and place said cause will be heard. AFFIDAVIT OF MAILING AND OF NONMILITARY SERVICE

NOTE: Follow generally Form (42), after mailing to devisees and legatees and also to any heirs who are not otherwise included, also to guardian ad litem. Include the words "heirs, devisees, legatees, guardians and wards" in affidavit. There is some question among lawyers as to whether it is still necessary to comply with the Soldiers' and Sailors' Civil Relief Act, but it is safer to do so where real estate is involved. Showing of nonmilitary service should be made at least once in a probate proceeding, and it is best that this be done at the time of final settlement. Separate affidavit, such as Form (57), may be used if preferred.

Reference: 59-2209, 2211.

Time: Mail within seven days after first publication (59-2209). File affidavit before hearing (59-2211).

IN THE PROBATE COURT OF APACHE COUNTY, KANSAS

In the Matter of the Estate of
Theodore R. Doe, Deceased.

JOURNAL ENTRY OF FINAL SETTLEMENT

Now on this 3rd day of March, 1950, this matter comes on upon the petition of Carrie N. Doe, executor of the will of Theodore R. Doe, deceased, for a final settlement of said estate. The executor appears in person and by her attorneys, Pleader, Pleader, & Tryor. Jesse J. Doe appears by G. I. Joseph, his guardian ad litem. Alice Doe Smith appears by L. M. Owl, her attorney. There are no other appearances. The court finds that notice of hearing upon said petition has been given by publication and mailing as provided by law and the order of this court, and that proof thereof has been duly filed in this court, and the said notice and the proof of publication and mailing thereof are approved by the court. The court further finds that none of the heirs, legatees, devisees, or other persons interested in this estate, are in the military service of the United States as defined by the Soldiers' and Sailors' Civil Relief Act of 1940 as amended.

Thereupon, the said petition for final settlement is presented to the court and evidence produced thereon, and the court, after consideration of the evidence, finds that the allegations of the said petition are true. The court further finds that the said Theodore R. Doe died testate on the 1st day of February, 1949, being a resident of Apache County, Kansas, and a citizen of the United States, leaving a will dated November 3, 1948, which will was duly admitted to probate in this court on March 7, 1949; that no appeal has been taken from the order admitting said will to probate and that the time for such appeal has expired, and that no later will has been offered for probate and that the time therefor has expired.

The court further finds that Carrie N. Doe, wife of the testator, consented in writing to the said will and has filed herein her election to accept the provisions thereof.

The court finds that the names and residences of the heirs, devisees and legatees who are entitled to the estate under the said will are as follows, to wit:

Carrie N. Doe, wife of decedent, whose address and residence is 1120 Main Street, Metropolis, Kansas;
Annabel Lee Howe (formerly Annabel Lee Doe, also known as Ann Howe), daughter of decedent, whose present address and residence is c/o Harold's Annex, Palm Springs, California;
Jesse J. Doe, minor son of decedent, whose address and residence is 1120 Main Street, Metropolis, Kansas;
Mary Doe, mother of decedent, whose address and residence is Route 1, Hometown, Kansas;
Alice Doe Smith, sister of decedent, whose address and residence is Grand Hotel, Lake George, Texas.

The court further finds that the said Carrie N. Doe was named executor in the said will and was duly appointed and qualified as such executor, and letters testamentary were issued to her by this court on March 10, 1949, and that she thereafter gave notice of her appointment as provided by law; that more than nine months have expired since the first publication of such notice, and more than one year has expired since the date of death of decedent, and that the said estate has been fully administered and that final settlement should be made in this estate.

The court further finds that the petitioner has filed herein a full and complete account of her receipts and disbursements as such executor, which is summarized as follows:

Receipts	$11,849.00
Disbursements	2,327.82
Balance on hand	$9,521.18

and the court, after examination of said account, finds that the same is true and correct, and further finds that all of the acts and proceedings of the said executor have been in accordance with law and the orders of this court, and the same are approved.

The court further finds that all demands of creditors against the said estate have been finally adjudicated, and that all demands which have been allowed against said estate have been paid in full, and that the time for filing demands against said estate has expired; that the executor has carried out the direction of the said will for the purchase of monument, and that the cost of the same has been paid; that the said estate is not subject to federal estate tax and that the State Commission of Revenue and Taxation, Inheritance Tax Division, of the State of Kansas, has issued its order, which is on file in this court, determining that no state inheritance taxes are due in this estate; and that all taxes due to the United States and the State of Kansas have been paid in full.

The court further finds that the said Carrie N. Doe has waived compensation for her services as executor; that said executor has employed Pleader, Pleader & Tryor as her attorneys in this estate, and that the services of said attorneys are reasonably worth the sum of $1,700, and that allowance should be made to said executor for attorneys' fees in said amount; that G. I. Joseph was appointed guardian ad litem herein for Jesse J. Doe, a minor, and has performed services as such guardian ad litem, and that such services are reasonably worth the sum of $50, and that allowance should be made to him in said amount; and that there are costs due in this court in the amount of $71.25.

The court further finds that the decedent owned at the time of his death the following described real estate in Apache County, Kansas:

Lot 7 on Frederick Street in Foster's Addition to the City of Metropolis, in Apache County, Kansas; which real estate has been sold by the executor under the power granted to her in said will, and the proceeds have been fully accounted for.

The court further finds that the decedent owned at the time of his death the following described real estate in Apache County, Kansas, to wit:

Lots 61, 62, 63 and 64 on Main Street, in the City of Metropolis, in Apache County, Kansas; which real estate has been set apart to the said Carrie N. Doe and Jesse J. Doe as their homestead, and which real estate (subject to such homestead right) is a part of the residue of the said estate.

The court further finds that the decedent owned in fee simple at the time of his death the following described real estate in Apache County, Kansas, to wit:

The South Half (S $\frac{1}{2}$) of Section Forty-one (41), Township Seventy-seven (77), Range Seventy-nine (79), West of the 15th P. M., in Apache County, Kansas; which real estate is a part of the residue of said estate.

The court further finds that the decedent owned at the time of his death the following described real estate in Apache County, Kansas, to wit:

An undivided one-fourth ($\frac{1}{4}$) interest in the Southwest Quarter (SW $\frac{1}{4}$) of Section Thirty-seven (37), Township Seventy-five (75), Range Eighty (80) West of the 15th P. M., in Apache County, Kansas; and that the same was specifically devised to Mary Doe, by the will of Theodore R. Doe, deceased.

The court further finds that under the will of Theodore R. Doe, deceased, the said Alice Doe Smith is legatee of certain personal property, consisting of Ford automobile and crayon portrait, described in the inventory filed herein.

The court further finds that under the will of Theodore R. Doe, deceased, the said Annabel Lee Howe is legatee of certain personal property, consisting of the white modernistic bedroom suite described in the inventory, and promissory note for $1,500, dated July 1, 1948, which note is cancelled and released by the terms of the said will, and the sum of $25 cash.

The court further finds that under the will of Theodore R. Doe, deceased, the said Carrie N. Doe is the devisee and legatee of all of the residue of the estate, real and personal, for her use and comfort, during her natural life, with the power to sell and dispose of the same as provided in said will, and that Jesse J. Doe is the devisee and legatee of the remainder of said residuary estate after the death of the said Carrie N. Doe.

IT IS THEREFORE ORDERED AND ADJUDGED BY THE COURT that the prayer of the said petition be granted and that final settlement be had in this estate.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED AND ADJUDGED BY THE COURT that all of the acts and proceedings and accounts of Carrie N. Doe as executor of the will of Theodore R. Doe, deceased, be and the same are approved.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED AND ADJUDGED BY THE COURT that no allowance be made to the executor for her services, on account of her waiver thereof; that the executor be allowed the sum of $1,700 for the services of her attorneys, Pleader, Pleader, and Tryor, and that G. I. Joseph be allowed the sum of $50 for his services as guardian ad litem, and that the executor pay the said allowances out of the moneys in her hands, and that the executor also pay the sum of $71.25 court costs, after the payment of which amounts and the $25 cash bequest to Annabel Lee Howe, there will remain in the hands of the executor a balance of $7,674.93 to be distributed with the residue of the estate as hereinafter provided.

IT IS BY THE COURT FURTHER ORDERED AND ADJUDGED that the said executor deliver to Alice Doe Smith the personal property bequeathed to her and described above.

IT IS BY THE COURT FURTHER ORDERED AND ADJUDGED that the said executor deliver to Annabel Lee Howe the personal property bequeathed to her and described above; including the said promissory note for $1,500 which note shall be cancelled and released by the executor and delivered to the said Annabel Lee Howe, and that the executor also distribute to said Annabel Lee Howe the cash bequest of $25 as above provided.

IT IS BY THE COURT ORDERED AND ADJUDGED that the title to the following described real estate:

An undivided one-fourth ($\frac{1}{4}$) interest in the Southwest Quarter (SW $\frac{1}{4}$) of Section Thirty-seven (37), Township Seventy-five (75), Range Eighty (80)

West of the 15th P. M., in Apache County, Kansas; be and the same is assigned to Mary Doe, as of the date of death of Theodore R. Doe, subject to any lawful disposition thereof heretofore made by her.

IT IS BY THE COURT FURTHER ORDERED AND ADJUDGED that the title to the following described real estate:

Lots 61, 62, 63 and 64 on Main Street, in the City of Metropolis, in Apache County, Kansas; (subject to homestead rights), and also:

The South Half (S $\frac{1}{2}$) of Section Forty-one (41), Township Seventy-seven (77), Range Seventy-nine (79), West of the 15th P. M., in Apache County, Kansas; and all other real estate owned by the decedent at the time of his death, subject to any lawful disposition thereof heretofore made, be and the same is assigned to Carrie N. Doe, for life, with power of disposal as provided in said will, with the remainder to Jesse J. Doe; and the said executor shall also deliver to said Carrie N. Doe the balance of \$7,674.93 cash and all personal property remaining in her hands after the payments and distribution above provided, to be held and used or disposed of during her life, in accordance with the terms of said will, and any part remaining at the time of the death of Carrie N. Doe shall become the property of Jesse J. Doe.

IT IS BY THE COURT FURTHER ORDERED that, upon the filing of receipts showing the payments and distribution above provided for, the said Carrie N. Doe shall be finally discharged as executor of the will of Theodore R. Doe, deceased.
